

Andalusia: a cultural immersion for Spanish language students

Andalusia, a culture that draws on the traditions and histories of a multitude of people, welcomes students as one of their own.

“Choosing Andalusia to learn Spanish is to travel to the land of Velázquez and Picasso, of Góngora and García Lorca, of Seneca and María Zambrano, of Paco de Lucía and Camarón.

It is to live among some of the most beautiful monuments in the world: the Alhambra in Granada, the Giralda in Seville, the Cathedral in Cadiz, the Alcazaba in Malaga or the Mezquita in Cordoba.”

In the Association of Spanish Schools of Andalusia we offer a wide range of activities to complement the learning of our language and culture

Schools are regularly audited to ensure they adhere to our quality statement

They are staffed by qualified teachers and all accredited by the Cervantes Institute.

Why choose Andalusia to learn Spanish?

Because Andalusia is the most diverse region in Spain

Golden sandy beaches or the highest peak of the Iberian Peninsula: Andalusia is full of contrasts. It has some of the most cosmopolitan cities in Europe, but also villages anchored in time.

Its impressive leisure and cultural offers range from hiking, climbing, golf, kite surfing and skiing to some of Spain's most important arts centres and film, music and literary festivals.

In addition, with its 300 days of sunshine a year, we enjoy the best climate in Europe.

FOR ITS ART AND CULTURE

Andalusia has always been a melting pot for the most relevant cultures in history.

This is demonstrated by its monumental cities, its arts and traditions that are still alive today, from pilgrimages to flamenco. All this has given shape to the famous open and hospitable character of the Andalusians.

BECAUSE THEY EAT VERY WELL AND LIVE BETTER

If Andalusia is one of the regions with the best quality of life, it's due to the fact that it combines the customs of all the peoples who have inhabited it.

This can also be seen in its gastronomy, where the Mediterranean diet is fed by traditions. The flavours of the vegetable garden, the sea and the mountains. coexist with the most avant-garde cuisine.

BECAUSE WE KNOW HOW TO WELCOME VISITORS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Andalusia has been for decades one of the most visited and safest destinations in the world.

That is why it has an impressive gastronomic, cultural and leisure offers. In addition, it has a modern communications and infrastructure network.
